Have you already Passed the Pre-Requisite Certification on the Fowler Range?

Have you fired the rifles you will be qualifying with from Standing and Prone at Fowler or elsewhere?

You NEED to have practiced or have experience shooting from these positions BEFORE coming to qualify on Leveridge.

Please check off which Firing Qualifications you want to take.

Offhand / Standing at 200 yards

Prone at 600 yards

Note: There are two separate firing qualifications for Leveridge.

You need to take the 200 yard standing Qual only if you plan on shooting standing from 200 yards.

If you will be shooting Prone only you will only take the 600 yard Prone firing portion.

List the Rifle and ammo information for the rifle/s you will use for each or both of the firing qualifications.

200: Manf, Model, Caliber, barrel length, barrel twist and ammo including bullet weight

600: Manf, Model, Caliber, barrel length, barrel twist and ammo including bullet weight

(*Example: Rock River, AR15, 223, 20 inch, 1 x 8, Black Hills with 75 grain bullet)

Do you have a 100 yard “Zero” (or other yardline zero) on the rifles you will be using for the Leveridge Certification?

(* Zero means is your rifle sighted in and on target for a given distance)

List what you figure your “Come – Ups” for the rifles and ammo you will be using for the Leveridge Certifications are?

(*Responses need to be in Minute of Angle or Mils)

Strongly Recommend:

Zero rifles and Practice offhand and prone at 100 yards on Fowler before signing up for Leveridge Qualification.

*If you can hold a 14” groups standing and a 6” groups prone at 100 yards you will do fine on Leveridge Qualification
